

Flavie Singirankabo is a coach, alternative practitioner for psychotherapy, translator, moderator, speaker and owner of Herzenshand. She accompanies individuals, teams and organizations from business and the non-profit sector in all development processes and supports them in authentically developing their potential. Her variety of topics ranges from holistic leadership and team development to change management through to intercultural competence and diversity. Truly embodying love as an attitude and driving force in all areas of life is Flavie's passion, which she brings to the world as a speaker and moderator of tailored workshops, conferences and panel discussions in German, English and French.
